

Vehicle Theft in CANADA

Every year, automobile theft costs Canadians close to $1 billion, including $542 million for insurers to fix or replace stolen cars, $250 million in police, health-care and court-system costs and millions more for correctional services.

- Canada's vehicle theft rate has been higher than the United States since 1996
- Canada ranked 5th of 20 countries for car thefts in a 2003 Interpol international crime survey.
- Over 92,000 stolen vehicles were reported in 2010, approximately 254 a day or 1 every 6 minutes.
- Statistics Canada: Vehicle recoveries are as low as 40% across the country, many thefts are connected to organized crime.

Thieves Avoid Platinum Theft Protected Vehicles

Why do thieves avoid vehicles with the Platinum Security Protection system?

- Thieves recognize your vehicle is traceable, which deters them from stealing it.
- The identification code makes the vehicle harder to sell and the parts less profitable to chop-shops.
- It costs thousands of dollars to replace all the etched windows or labeled body panels.
- A professional thief will pass on a marked vehicle to steal an unmarked one.

Why is Glass Etching or Body Panel Labeling better than other security protection systems?

- No monitoring fee.
- It can not be disabled, disabled or disconnected.
- The identification code is permanent.
- It creates a direct link system between the vehicle, the dealership and the vehicle's owner.
- Other systems help to prevent theft or assist in theft recovery. Platinum Theft Protection does both.

What is Platinum Security Protection?

This system incorporates three components:

1. Identification Code

A non-removable, police traceable identification code is permanently etched on all the major glass of your vehicle or imprinted onto selected body panels of your vehicle.

The identification code is registered into a national database that is cross-referenced to the manufacturer's Vehicle Identification Number (VIN), the selling dealership, and the vehicle's owner.

2. Warning Decal

Visible warning decals on the driver and front passenger windows identify the vehicle as being registered with a national theft prevention company. These decals warn thieves that the vehicle's key components are marked.

3. Theft Recovery

The Platinum Security Protection also aids in recovering stolen vehicles and assists you with related expenses.
